

Zoning articles pass easily

Wilmington voters approved two zoning changes and supplemental budget appropriations in a special town meeting Monday night. All the votes were overwhelmingly yes. The meeting completed its business in an hour and a half.

The first budget item was the approval of the new position of a second deputy chief in the Wilmington Fire Department. Town Manager Buzz Stapczynski explained that the second deputy chief would be responsible for training and arson investigation.

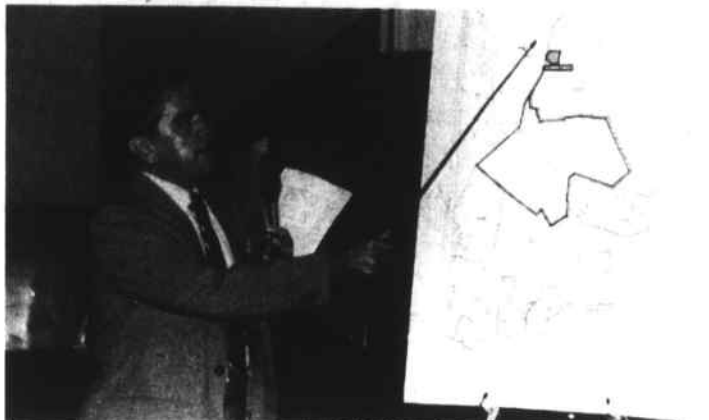

Selectman Bob Cain objected to the creation of a new position, claiming that if there is a need, it is for more firefighters, not another deputy chief.

Retired fire lieutenant Bob Woods also voiced his opposition to the new position, saying that the purpose of civil service was to take the politics away from these appointments.

Rep. Jim Miceli spoke in favor of the position twice. "I've seen my money mis-spent in the past, but I'm satisfied with this expenditure," he said. Citing a need for training, he said, "A few industries are sitting time bombs."

The appropriation passed on a voice vote. Cain questioned the call, so a standing vote was taken. It passed, 176 to 51.

Other budget appropriations passed included: $27,900 for ballfield renovations and $27,000 for the reserve fund. The latter figure was to replace an equal amount transferred by the finance committee at the beginning of the fiscal year, to cover increase the increased cost of the town's rubbish removal contract. The reserve fund now stands at the level of the original appropriation, $75,000.

Atty. Thomas Roussell indicates the Ballardvale Street location of a parcel of land owned by the Howland Development Co. The special town meeting Monday night voted to rezone the 10-acre parcel — as well as another 100 acre area — to industrial.

Industrial location

The function of grounds maintenance was transferred from the Public Buildings Department to what is now called the D.P.W., formerly the Highway Department. The amount transferred, in three sums, totalled $102,677, including $56,500 for the repaving of the Shawsheen School parking lot. The money had all been previously appropriated in the annual town meeting.

Zoning articles

The first of two zoning articles came to the floor of the meeting at 8:20 p.m. Article 2 was for the rezoning to General Industry of 100 acres of land on Ballardvale Street.

The planning board, meeting last week, had voted to disapprove the rezoning to General Industry, but then voted to approve a change to Industrial Park, a more restrictive zone.

In a selectmen's meeting held at the front of the auditorium before the town meeting, the selectmen, planning board and developers attempted to iron out an agreement as to how to proceed. Attorney Joseph Courtney proposed an agreement, whereby the developer, Tambone Corp., would exclude certain uses, if the general industry zone were allowed.

When the article was introduced on the town meeting floor, there was no attempt by the planning board to amend it to industrial park zoning, although the board recommendation remained for industrial park.

Conrad Gerhartz of Andover Street said that he had been told his proposal would be out of order, but he wanted to air it anyway. He proposed to rezone back to residential all industrial land not already in use, in an area of North Wilmington. He also asked what percentage of the town was currently zoned industrial, stating that good planning sense is for only 25 percent of the town to be industrial.

Mrs. Elizabeth Wheeler of Glen Road complained about traffic in front of her house. Then, stamping her feet, she shouted, "Industries, industries, industries! God damn it, I'm sick of it!"

Dan Ballou, chairman of the Board of Selectmen, said that he had always wanted to build a home on Ballardvale Street, but that the street has changed. He said he agrees that the land along Ballardvale Street should be industrial, but said that he would call for a moratorium on future industrial growth.

Ralph Ritchie said that he owned a building on Ballardvale Street, and that the traffic was "horrendous."

In answer to a question about how much of the town was zoned for industry, Principal Assessor Anthony Krzeminski said, speaking only from memory, that out of 10,000 acres in town, probably 2,000 is zoned industrial.

Selectman Rocco DePasquale then said that 50 percent of the tax base is industrial.

Article 2 passed, 198 to 27. Article 3 was presented by Atty. Tom Roussell, representing Howland Development Co.

"We are the little fellow, but not so little that we haven't seen some very fine development in the Wilmington area," said Roussell, by way of comparing the Howland firm to Tambone's. Roussell pointed out that the development could not proceed, even after the rezoning, without planning board approval of the site plan and other facets of the development.

The vote on Article 3 was 163 to 16.

Redevelopment Authority preparing to sell final lot on Jewel Drive

The Wilmington Redevelopment Authority (WRA) is preparing to sell the last lot of land on Jewel Drive. Lot 9A, zoned for industry, is at the end of the drive and is about 10 acres in area. The WRA is preparing advertisements calling for the submission of proposals to the board by 11 a.m. on November 4.

The board recently accepted a check from Altron Incorporated of Wilmington for $30,000 for three acres of land westerly of Jewel Drive. Part of that land is defined as wetlands.

During the summer the WRA and town engineer have been completing Jewel Drive. The work is not yet complete. The project is expected to cost $120,000. There is a $90,000 bond, and the money from Altron will, it is believed, pay the remaining costs.

About a dozen firms have evidenced interest in purchasing the last 10 acres. Those firms will be notified, by mail, that the land is now for sale. There will also be an advertisement, in two or more newspapers, advertising the expected sale in November.

Walkathon Sunday, and Frank's been busy

"I'm only talking to my friends," said Frank Tuttle. But Frank has a lot of friends.

What Frank is "talking" about is signing up sponsors for the Wilmington Community Fund Walkathon, to be held on Sunday. Frank, who is retired, has been very busy, signing up sponsors. As of Tuesday, he had pledges for over $500 — and he picked up six more pledge sheets.

Frank will be among hundreds of people walking for the Community Fund on Sunday afternoon. The walkathon begins at 12:30 p.m., with sign-up at noon, on the common.

Apple festival Oct. 1

The Tewksbury North Street School Parents Advisory Committee (PAC) will hold its second annual Apple Festival and Craft Fair Saturday, October 1 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. (rain or shine). This year there will be 65 crafts people exhibiting a wide range of crafts at the festival.

Apple head figures, clocks, wooden toys, decorative wreaths, dolls, clowns, lampshades, and calligraphy are only a sampling of the many quality crafts which will be featured.

And for the children, there will be a separate children's room where face painting, penny candy, friendship pins, children's crafts, and a computer program will be available for a nominal fee. "Taffy" the Apple will also be on hand with lollipops for the tots.

The PAC will feature a baked goods table, an Apple Recipe Cookbook and a raffle. First prize in the raffle will be a Commodore Vic 20 Home Computer donated by Omnitek of Tewksbury with the second prize of a merry weekend at the Nashua Sheraton Tara and a third prize of a 13" color television.

All proceeds from the event will go to the North Street School PAC. That committee will use the funds to assist the school's educational programs.

Last year, some $3000 in proceeds from the first apple festival were used to outfit the school with an Apple II computer, two color television sets used as monitors for the computer and modulators that allow electronic signals to go from the computer to the television set. The funds also allowed the PAC to treat the school children to an ice cream day at Friendly's. The committee also funded the appearance of a theatre group that performed educational skits for the children and purchased trophies for students who took part in the school's athletic field day activities.

Art Guild workshop Saturday

To get this year's program off to a flying start, the Tewksbury Art Guild has invited Michael Stoffa to return for an all-day workshop Saturday, September 24, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Stoffa was a big hit with participants of last year's workshop and is highly regarded as a lecturer-demonstrator in New England, New York and New Jersey. He holds his audience's attention with generous amounts of painting tips and lively stories. He is a well qualified painting teacher, having taught a variety of subjects with many approaches, and prefers teaching in oils or acrylics.

Within the past year Stoffa has been the recipient of four awards of merit from the Salmagundi Club of New York City. He maintains a Gallery in Rockport, Ma. and Claremont, Ca.

Participant fees are: $8.00 for members and $10.00 for non-members; viewer fees are: free for members and $2.00 for non-members.

The guild encourages non-artists to attend its workshops and demonstrations to see what's going on in the arts. Those who choose to participate should mail their name, address and fee as soon as possible to: The Tewksbury Art Guild, P.O. Box 375, Tewksbury, Ma 01876. In the return mail, they will receive a list of materials needed for the workshop. Those who merely wish to view should attend on September 24.

Views On Dental Health

By RANDALL SMITH, D.D.S.
85 Wilmington Road,
Burlington. Phone: 272-0540.

MAKING TEETH LOOK GOOD AGAIN

Perhaps some years ago you had your dentist perform some gold bridgework, but the white facing of the crowns have discolored. Maybe there are areas along the gum line where the gold margins are visible. When you look into your mouth, it makes you uncomfortable because your teeth don't look as good as they could, especially when you smile.

Perhaps you have some old fillings that have become tarnished, and this makes you self-conscious, too. The fillings have protected your teeth from decay, and still do, and the bridgework has done its job in taking the place of missing teeth. But you want your teeth to also look as attractive as possible. You don't want other people to be reminded of the restorative work done on your teeth every time you open your mouth.

If you want your mouth to look as natural as possible, ask your dentist what he can do about it. With today's cosmetic dental techniques, such as capping with porcelain, defects can be treated to make your teeth look good again.

The deputy chief

The controversy surrounding the town meeting vote approving the position of a second deputy chief for the Wilmington Fire Department has yet to quiet down. But it is time that it did.

To set the record straight, the town meeting Monday night voted to fund, and thus to create, the position of a second deputy chief. The man in the job will be in charge of training and arson investigation, and will work from 4 p.m. to midnight.

The position automatically goes to Daniel Stewart, who is the only man in the department (other than Deputy Chief Walter Sowyrda) who has passed the deputy chief's exam. Stewart was appointed to the position on a temporary basis last month.

The appointment has some very obvious political grounding, but Stewart's appointment is not without merit. Yes, Dan Stewart is the brother of Selectman Jim Stewart. But he is also the only man on the department with a bachelor's degree in fire science. Yes, the position was created on a temporary basis without the benefit of a town meeting vote. But in his capacity, Dan Stewart is of more value than he would be as a private.

The fire department can be stronger and more effective with a professional in charge of training. Also, the move puts one more man on duty at the department's busiest time of the day, and Stewart has demonstrated that he is not a "feet on the desk" administrator.

The position has been voted in town meeting. Now it is time to say, "Congratulations, Dan. We hope you do a good job."

Blood drive Sept. 29 at Tewksbury Masonic Hall

There is a critical shortage of blood in the northeast region where at least 1,500 pints of blood are needed each and every day. In view of this, Wamesit Lodge, A.F. & A.M., 70 Victor Drive, Tewksbury will sponsor a bloodmobile Thursday, September 29, between 2 and 8 p.m.

While this is run in conjunction with the Tewksbury Town Blood Committee, anyone willing to donate is invited to attend this bloodmobile to help relieve the existing shortages. Appointments may be made by calling 851-7107, but remember that while appointments help to plan the day, walk-in donors are always welcome.

Consider the man who felt sorry for himself because his feet hurt until he met a man who had no legs. Count your blessings and donate on the 29th of September, that someone else may have a better chance at that good life.

I never gave before, why should I give now?

Almost all of the blood we need in this area is collected here. The remainder has been imported from other areas. To make matters worse, our needs have increased dramatically in the last few years while our donations have not kept pace.

What happens to my blood, who gets it?

Surgical patients, accident victims, leukemia and other cancer patients, RH babies, hemophiliacs and burn victims get it. All those who need blood get it.

Will it hurt?

Pinch yourself; that's how much it hurts. Worrying about it is the real problem. That's why people are always so surprised when it's over. Watch how pleased people are after donating blood; they'll tell you how simple it is to do. To some it's a real "spirit lifter" in the middle of the work day.

How long will it take?

While the entire procedure may take about 45 minutes, the actual giving time is only five to seven minutes. Many people feel that these are the most unselfish minutes that they ever experience. You start by registering. Then comes a brief physical screening and the actual donation. You finish up with refreshments and a chance to relax.

I've heard I'll get dizzy or feel weak.

You may get a little nervous and this is normal. Sometimes this does create a slightly weak feeling, but after relaxing a few minutes, you'll feel fine. Actually, you'll feel wonderful because you've helped someone in a truly personal way! That's the only side effect of giving blood.

letters to the editor

Dear Larz:

At the town meeting held this past Monday evening, I was overwhelmed by the fact that town voters were so easily fooled and deceived by some of our elected officials. The matter I refer to is the appropriation voted on for the appointment of Selectman James Stewart's brother to the position of second shift Deputy Fire Chief.

I emphasize the fact that the new position went to a selectman's relative, because that is the real reason why the position was created to begin with. Allow me to offer you some insight Larz.

First of all, Monday night began with Chief Wandell telling us all how desperately we and the fire department needed a second deputy chief, and that if it were not so, he would tell us otherwise. I realize I'm young Larz, and probably have a lot left to learn, but for some strange reason I would tend to think that Chief Wandell was prepared to back up any proposal submitted to him by the man who signs his paycheck — the Town Manager. Anyway, that leads me to my next point.

From the very beginning, the Board of Selectmen has been led by James Stewart to give a favored position to his brother on the fire department. The Chief only made an official request for the increase in staff after a considerable amount of political pressure.

Should our fire department really need additional staff, then let us make the funds available at all costs. Public safety is the most vital of issues, second only to honesty and integrity in our town government. Let's think about it this way: were there not a selectman's brother on the fire department, a Stewart, looking for a political appointment, would this issue have ever been raised and this new position created to begin with? Let's think about that.

Submitted,
Kevin John Sowyrda

Dear Larz:

From my observations, Wilmington appears to have neither short term nor long term objectives and goals with respect to the growth, development, and planning of residential, commercial and industrial projects. The recent majority of development and building over the past three to five years, in my opinion, is damaging and irresponsible to the distinctive character that once existed in Wilmington as a place. Most projects appear to be conceived and built without respect to their existing surroundings.

Wilmington as a "place" and town is comprised of a totality of elements having material substance, shape, texture and color. All of these determine an environmental character which, in effect, determines the essence of a particular "place." Towns are made up of a multitude of particular places because experience tells us, through zoning laws, that various different actions and activities require various environments to take place in a various way (i.e., residential - commercial - industrial). The question becomes, "How do you combine these various actions and activities, yet maintain an ambience and character particular to Wilmington?"

Wilmington appears to be a town split into two very distinct characters. That split is reflected in the image you receive depending upon the public route you are traveling.

Following Route 62 through the town, you can view a town embraced in an ideology of New England towns - historic houses, churches, public buildings, town common, etc., fitting into their contextual environment (Regional Health Center, Elia's Country Store, Congregational Church).

On the other hand, traveling down Lowell Street or Main Street you view a town growing unguided. Rather than creating an environment intrinsic to Wilmington as a place, you view developments that rape the land they use. This is a most imminent threat to the value of Wilmington as a "place." The only project of merit and value that creates an environment and beautifies its surroundings is Avco's main building.

How many more unattractive buildings and developments do we require before we realize that enough is enough?

The issue here is that Wilmington should not become a piece of anyone's enterprising desires of what Wilmington should be. What we need now is more vision, not a detailed and rigorous plan, but a way to decide about how much is enough. If the sightless industrial and commercial developments for the sole purpose of increased tax revenues continue unguided, they can soon destroy a good deal of Wilmington's essence. When projects are proposed without the surrounding environment being revitalized or taken into consideration, it appears a grave injustice has been committed. The increasing corruption of our town will bear a cost that, in the end, will destroy any attempts at Wilmington maintaining any individual character and identity. The pristine areas we don't develop wisely may be lost forever.

Do we continue to measure the value of our environment to the projects and developments which are often blind to anything but the dollar?

Richard Dowd

Dear Mr. Neilson:

Your newspaper has seriously misrepresented my views on Social Security and I must insist that you correct the record.

Your story on August 17 falsely accused me of being responsible for "a new attack" being launched in Washington against Social Security. It alleged I said, "Why can't the elderly people do with what they have now; sacrifices have to be made to stop the federal budget from increasing any more."

I have never said any such thing. Those views are absolutely contrary to the views I have expressed and the actions I have taken as a Member of Congress.

The quotation attributed to me is actually a distortion of a remark made to the Associated Press by a Congressman from Kansas. While my name was mentioned in the article, I never spoke to the reporter and I was not quoted.

In all fairness, I cannot be held responsible for the statements of another Congressman, whether they are accurately reported or not.

Here are the facts behind the scurrilous charge that I am orchestrating an "attack" on Social Security. I am organizing an ad hoc committee in Congress to study all federal benefit programs and to provide information about them to all Members of Congress. These so-called entitlement programs make up the most rapidly growing segment of the federal budget, accounting for nearly half of all government spending. Unless Congressmen are kept adequately informed, there is a danger they will try to reduce the budget by the easy, but unfair solution of across-the-board cuts in all benefit programs, ranging from Social Security to military and civil service pensions, medical assistance and food stamps.

I have spoken out repeatedly against such simplistic solutions precisely because they would force undue hardship on our retired elderly.

Dozens of elderly people from the Wilmington area have written to me since your article appeared. They are understandably though needlessly upset and terrified that their modest Social Security benefits are about to be slashed.

I deeply resent the fact your paper presented such a misleading account of my record without once attempting to check the facts with my office. I look forward to a prompt correction.

Sincerely,
Brian Donnelly,
Member of Congress

The Town Crier apologizes for the misrepresentation. The material in question was part of August 17 "Wilmington Senior Topics," a column submitted by the coordinator of the Wilmington Drop-In Center.

Girl Scouts return from Florida trip

Tewksbury Cadette Girl Scout Troop 520 has recently returned from a trip to Florida and Walt Disney World. The trip was the culmination of two years of planning and preparation.

The highlight of the trip was the distinction of becoming the first troop ever to earn the new EPCOT badge hot off the presses of the Citrus Girl Scout Council of the Girl Scouts of United States of America. Also, the troop was able to earn the Disney Badge, one of the first troops to do so from this region.

Part of the requirements of earning both badges involved extensive interviewing of personnel from both attractions and therefore, the girls were able to get a deeper insight into the workings of those entertainment centers.

The girls camped for five nights in Orlando and from there were able to visit Disney's Magic Kingdom, Wet 'n' Wild, and EPCOT Center.

Then they traveled by van to Daytona Beach for fun and sun on the beach and enjoyed the luxury of staying in a motel. While in Daytona, the troop was in contact with a Daytona based Cadette Troop and presented them with memorabilia from the New England region.

Rounding out the week's activities was a visit to the Hawaiian Inn for a formal dinner and Polynesian dance exhibition.

Participants were Cadettes Jennifer Connors, Karen Duggan, Joyce Gagnon, Sharleen King, Kim Merritt, Lynda Miller, Ruth Ober and Marianne Orsula, and Senior Scouts Michelle Desmond and Liana Parker.

Leaders accompanying the girls were Jo-Jo Scharmer, Holly Sughrue and Ginny Desmond.

Double Tutties

It was Mr. and Mrs. Frank Tuttle, doubled, last weekend in Bar Harbor and other parts of Maine and New Hampshire.

The Frank Tutties of Carson Avenue, Wilmington met the Frank Tutties of Alabama last November in a trailer camp in Florida. The Alabama Tutties came north a few weeks ago and the foursome visited Main and New Hampshire as a group.

The Wilmington man is Frank Herbert, and the Alabama man is Frank Otis, so it was a case of "Herb" and "Ote," one to the other.

Senior horses carry Redmen

Back brigade buries Haverhill, 21-0

by Rick Cooke
Sports Editor

When sophomore quarterback Rob Aylward's first pass of his Tewksbury High School football varsity career was intercepted and returned for a touchdown, it looked like this might be one of those rare miserable afternoons for the Redmen and coach Bob Aylward.

Fortunately, coach Aylward has five senior running backs (Brian McGrath, John Hodgson, John Naughton, Shawn Monahan, and Rich Mornewick) who like to bang behind a fine run blocking offensive line, an adaptable attack and what looks like another Big Play defense.

All of these factors gave young Aylward plenty of time to settle down and fire a pair of quick slant-in touchdown passes of 10 and 13 yards to senior tri-captain Steve Gale, as the Redmen chalked up a surprisingly easy 21-0 victory over the Haverhill Hillies at Doucette Memorial Field Saturday.

Sandwiched between the two Aylward TD tosses was a six yard burst by Monahan in the third quarter, capping an impressive Tewksbury ground control drive.

That first Aylward pass that was picked off and returned for a Haverhill score was wiped out by a blocking below the waist infraction, as the Redmen caught their first break of the afternoon.

The second break set up the first TMHS touchdown in the second quarter when junior receiver Mike Irvine felt the pressure between a pair of stumbling Hillie defensive backs and hit the deck, neatly drawing a pass interference call at the Haverhill 15 yard line.

With 25 seconds remaining in the first half, Aylward found Gale cutting over the middle for the first TD toss of his varsity career.

It was clear that a second Tewksbury score would put the staggering Hillies away completely in this game. The home club came out and did just that in the third quarter after making the necessary halftime adjustments.

The Redmen went about their business on the ground for TD number two, using six plays to cover the 78 yards.

The backfield, all bangers with the exception of McGrath, who has a mini-wiggle, knawed off the yards in big chunks. McGrath burst free down the sideline for 11 yards, Hodgson gained 13 more, McGrath dipped and slashed his way for a gain of 26, and Mornewick banged inside for three before McGrath again took off for 11 yards to set up a first and goal at the Haverhill six yard line.

Monahan then concluded this trap and sweep dominated series with a six yard burst up the middle for the score. Jim Evangelista's second PAT was perfect, and Tewksbury had a 14-0 third quarter lead.

The final TMHS score came with just 2:18 left in the game after the Redmen defense had stuffed the impotent Haverhill offense on consecutive second-and-one, third-and-one and fourth-and-one situations. Gale made another slant-in grab and Evangelista was perfect again for the 21-0 final.

Redmen gain
248 total yards

The Redmen offense, after a shaky start, gained 248 total yards, 151 coming in the second half. Aylward recovered from Charlie Thomas' 42 yard first quarter interception return for the negated TD to finish 6-12 for 82 yards.

Haverhill never recovered from the letdown of that play, managing just 44 yards of offense and one first down in the second half. The visitors had just four first downs for the game and 109 total yards.

Mike Boyce and Mike Mackey each had interceptions for that tough Tewksbury defense, while offensively, senior tri-captain Tom Ogden got to toss his first tackle-option pass of the season. Just another play in the Tewksbury attack.

Backfield battle Redmen receiver Mike Irvine (17) battles a Haverhill defensive back for a deep pass thrown in Saturday's 21-0 Tewksbury rout.

Middies catch Wildcats, 8-7

Wilmington High School's gritty football 11 almost pulled off a first game upset of heavily favored Dracut Saturday before falling short, 8-7 when senior Middle quarterback Bob Marchelletta dove from one foot out, then added the two point conversion for the victory with just 1:35 left to play.

The loss was a tough one for coach Ed Harrison's Wildcats, who received a stellar effort from the entire defense, senior quarterback Dean Athanasia (7-12, 86 yards), receiver Brian Moon (four catches, 63 yards), Paul Caizzi (two yard touchdown run) and Keith Dunnett (fumble recovery).

Wildcats drop Lawrence

The WHS soccer squad is off to a fast start in the MVC with wins over Haverhill (3-2) and Lawrence (4-1).

Captain Bill Eno opened the scoring for the Cats in the victory over Haverhill, with junior Jim Taylor assisting. Winger Jeff Greco notched the second WHS goal off a nice crossing pass by Taylor. The third goal was a determined effort by Eno as he weaved his way past three Haverhill defenders. The Taylor and Greco points were their firsts as varsity players.

Center-halfback Steve Caizzi put the Wildcats up 1-0 later in the week against Lawrence. Fullback Bill Zambarnardi picked up the assist. Caizzi tallied the game winner early in the third period, with the helper to winger Taylor.

The Wildcats dominated the fourth period with senior Brian Cram and Eno scoring the goals. Taylor picked up his fourth assist of the young season in this period.

When push came to shove

Dracut High School quarterback Bob Marchelletta (right) plunges for his late touchdown behind the blocking of his offensive line Saturday. The Wildcats played a fine game in the 8-7 defeat.

Tewksbury Pop Warner

Tewksbury teams crush Billerica

The Tewksbury Pop Warner C and B teams came away with wins over Billerica last week, while the Redmen A squad came up short, losing, 21-12. The C team Chiefs handled their counterparts easily with a strong 36-0 win, while the B crew looked impressive with their 20-0 win over the Billerica Braves.

In the opening game the Chiefs came out smoking as on the second play from scrimmage when Robert Lombardi bolted 50 yards for Tewksbury's first score. The PAT was unsuccessful. On the following set of downs, Jimmy McLean recovered a Billerica fumble at the visitors' six yard line. On the Chiefs' first play Kevin Ward blasted in for the score to up the tally to 12-0 Chiefs.

In the second quarter Tewksbury marched 43 yards on five plays with fine runs by Jeff Saunders, Kevin Ward and Brian Cooper, capped with a touchdown pass from quarterback David Boudreau to Jimmy McLean for the 18-0 lead at halftime.

In the third period Jeff Saunders and Dave Perry sacked the Billerica punter at the Warriors' 16 yard line. From here Robert Lombardi logged his second touchdown with a 24 yard run and a 24-0 lead. Early in the fourth quarter the Chiefs' Blue offense took over and marched 33 yards in five plays on runs by Jamie Flynn, Derek Weitz and Stephen Lavalie, with Lavalie banging in for the score and a 30-0 lead.

The Blue defense got into the act, as Keith Nolan picked off a Billerica pass and scrambled 25 yards to the Billerica 40 yard line. From here fine runs by Keith Sullivan, Todd Bairstow and Derek Weitz got the ball to the 30 yard line, as Weitz flew the next 30 yards to paydirt for the final 36-0 score.

Defensive standouts for the Chiefs were Kevin Ward, Jeff Saunders, Sean Wilson and Joey Bilinski. The offense was led by Keith DeSisto, David Babine, Jimmy McLean and Glen Harris. The Blue offense was led by Shaun Dillon, John Ellwood, Brian Brooks and Colin Bradford.

All three teams are home again this weekend, as they play host to old rival Sudbury down at Ballou-DelRossi Field on Livingston Street. This will be a key game for all three squads, as this is the team that tied the Chiefs last season, 0-0. The C game will begin at 11 a.m., with the B game at 12:30 p.m. and the A contest at 2:00.

The Tewksbury entries into the new Merrimack Valley D League (10 and under) were both victorious this past Saturday at Ballou-DelRossi Field. The Pawnee knocked off Billerica, 6-0 and the Sioux beat Chelmsford, 12-0.

The Pawnee touchdown came in the second period, as Jason Anzivino blasted in from seven yards out to notch the score. The balance of the game turned into a defensive battle, as Kevin Green and Anzivino both recovered Billerica fumbles to slow down the Billerica attack. Other offensive standouts for the Pawnee were Trevor May, Garin Worth, Kirk Lombardi and Tony Polimeno. Anchoring the defense for the Purple were Walter Job, Ryan Doherty, John Tempia and Jim Nowak.

In the second game of the morning, the Sioux jumped out front in the first period on a six yard sweep by Timmy Lightfoot. The score stood until late in the fourth quarter, as Mike Morin busted loose on a 23 yard jaunt for the Sioux' second touchdown. The Sioux defense battled the big Chelmsford team behind the efforts of Steve Field, Robbie McGrath, Scott Arzilli, Tom Callahan and Mark Menezes. Leading the way for the Green and Gold offense was quarterback Dana Boudreau and Joey Goglia, who had several long gainers throughout the game.

The Sioux travel to Billerica this Friday night for a 6:30 game at Lampson Field, while the Pawnee are at Chelmsford on Sunday morning for a 9 a.m. game at the McCarthy Junior High field.

Pop Warner dance Friday

The Wilmington Pop Warner organization will hold its' second dance of the season Friday evening, Sept. 23 from 7:30 to 10:30 at the North Intermediate School cafeteria.

There will be dance contests and prizes awarded throughout the evening, with disc jockey Randy Skillings providing the music.

The A's dropped a 13-0 decision to the Lowell Warriors in their season opener last week, while the B and C squads also bowed to the junior Redskins in the Pop Warner tripleheader at the Wilmington High School field.

The Chargers will host Waltham this Sunday at the High School field, with the C game starting at 12:25 p.m., followed by the B contest at 2 and the A game finale at 3:15.

Show your car you care.

Although 12,000 to 16,000 miles may not seem like much to you, to your car's spark plugs it can be a lifetime. And after this many miles, they're probably too worn out to start your car dependably and burn fuel efficiently. But, if you'll have your mechanic regularly tune up your car's engine and install a fresh set of plugs, you can help keep them from causing the problems that wear you down. Same goes for the rest of your car, too. It needs you to keep it up, so it won't let you down. And this is what regular car care is all about.

Redmen, Wildcats to play catch-up

by Rick Cooke
Sports Editor

In looking at this fall's Merrimack Valley Conference football race, one gets the feeling that no one team is ready to emerge as a real powerhouse, while any one of four, possibly five teams could cop the championship.

The balance that exists this season was created by graduation depletion that affected all 12 teams in the conference. This is noteworthy only in that there seems to be more solid football players gone via graduation than in past years. What makes the MVC one of the best conferences in that state however, is its ability to refurbish programs with good young football players year after year.

This season the four teams in the Cream of the Crop category look to be Methuen, Dracut, Lowell and Chelmsford,

First lets look at the local teams, Tewksbury and Wilmington, before running down the conference from top to bottom.

Tewksbury Redmen (1982 - 8-2-0)

Saturday the Redmen took the field led by a sophomore quarterback (Rob Aylward) with an understandable case of the shakes and a flock of senior running backs with little varsity experience, and still manhandled Haverhill, 21-0.

While most teams would be happy to win two or three games in a rebuilding year (TMHS graduated 20 seniors), the Redmen could win as many as seven contests, as young Aylward is sure to improve from week to week.

Head coach Bob Aylward (53-25-1) and his innovative and adaptable staff have been filling graduation gaps for years, and this season is no different, with around-for-three seasons and a flock of sophomores up from a fine frosh program, along with some talented freshmen now attending the high school, the Redmen look to be in good shape for the future.

Graduation struck the heart of the team's skill positions, with the club losing quarterback Jeff Vecchi, Tony Rubico (RB), Tony Massone (FB), Boo Tremlett (RB), Chuck Healey (LB-G), Mike Bailou (RB), Kevin Comfort (T), Tim Sheehan (T), Dave Hennessy (C), Mike Buscanera (T) and Barney Marion (G).

There is some solid returning talent however, led by tri-captains tackle Tom Ogden (6'1, 200), linebacker Tom Nawn (5'11, 165) and receiver-defensive back Steve Gale (6'1, 180).

Helping to ease Aylward into the varsity situation will be a returning senior backfield of Pearce (T-6'1, 200), Mike Dunlay (G-LB-5'9, 180) and Niel Saunders (G-DE-5'8, 165).

The team even has a junior middleguard in the mold of current frosh coach Mark Petros. Joe Indelicato, at 5'5, 175 pounds, is sure to draw some attention around the conference.

Senior Steve Catalano (5'9, 160) has stepped in to play the center position, while sophomore Jim Evangelista (5'8, 145) will handle the kicking chores. Hodgson is the TMHS punter.

Tewksbury's sophomore football class is a talented one in 1983. The 27 sophs on the varsity roster will form the nucleus of this club as soon as next season. Fresh from a superb frosh team are sophs Aylward, Jim Evangelista, Mike Goodine (RB-5'9, 145), Jim Collins (RB-5'3, 110), Joe Vecchi (RB-DB-5'4, 130), Shawn Rogers (RB-DB-5'8, 165), Bob Dunlay (FB-DB-5'10, 150), Bobby Briggs (RB-DB-5'9, 135), Steve DeFina (QB-E-DB-5'10, 135), Steve Moore (DE-5'8, 140), George MacAllister (RB-LB-5'9, 150), Mike Capuano (RB-LB-5'5, 140), Scott Weisensee (C-E-5'5, 130), Scott Fay (T-5'7, 160), John Marsh (G-LB-5'8, 160), Bill Brothers (T-5'8, 170), Mike Healey (G-LB-5'8, 150), Joe Waible (C-MG-5'6, 200), Tom Niles (T-6'0, 180), Bob Ware (T-E-5'9, 160), Joe Evangelista (G-E-5'8, 145), Dave Lindsey (E-DB-5'9, 130), Rich Lapham (E-DB-5'9, 140), Chris McHardy (E-5'10, 150), Bob Byers (E-6'0, 140), Shawn Blades (E-DB-5'11, 150) and Mark Williams (RB-DB-5'8, 140). The lone freshman to crack the varsity roster is running back Ken Covello (5'7, 145).

The Redmen do not have a genuine speed back this season, with Aylward probably the fastest player in their backfield and McGrath with a bit of a wiggle that could make him tough to contain.

What this team does have is a solid offensive line, players who have been around winners for several years, a coaching staff with a system that can adapt to its personnel, and a quarterback with the potential to be every bit the players that Ted Casey and Dennis Vecchi (the top QB's in TMHS history) were. This will be a learning year for Aylward, with some seniors and coach Connie Barry right there to lend a hand when inexperience makes the going a bit ragged.

Defensively, they flock to football like most Tewksbury teams. That defense was hardly tested against Haverhill however. Nawn is a top flight player, Indelicato may be a tough nut to crack, and Ogden lends size and experience to that unit. Andover's passing game will provide a good test for the defensive backfield Saturday.

I look for Tewksbury to lead that darkhorse pack this year. This team appears capable of winning anywhere between six to eight games on a very tough schedule. The keys at the moment appear to be the development of their quarterback and the play of their defense against the bigger and better teams. The Redmen can not afford to turn over the football.

Wilmington Wildcats (1982 - 7-3-0)

Coach Ed Harrison had his small troops flying Saturday, almost winning a game that the Dracut Middies fully expected to win by three touchdowns.

The Wildcats have excellent team speed and a bunch of tough players who will give bigger teams fits throughout this season. Wilmington, despite being picked for ninth here, could make much more noise if they avoid injury and their inexperienced players pick up the slack caused by the graduation of Charlie Athanasia (QB), Ed Olshaw (RB), Jon Nolan (RB), Steve Hancox (LB), George Kelley (DE), Ed Olson (T), Bob Ducharme (T), John Blaisdell (E), Jay Rowe (DE), Wil Baldwin (E) and Brian Kavanaugh (DE).

Charlie Athanasia and the all-purpose play of Olshaw will be the biggest holes that Wilmington must fill, along with the gaps along the offensive and defensive lines.

Looking to step in will be Charlie's brother Dean (6'3, 190) at quarterback. Dean is a WHS tri-captain along with senior halfback Paul Caizzi (5'5, 150) and senior center-linebacker Gerry Sullivan (6', 160). Caizzi will look to fill the Olshaw gap, while Sullivan will be the leader along the offensive line.

The only other returning Wildcat letterman are senior linebacker Paul Bossi (5'8, 167), senior defensive back Frank Carta (5'9, 145) and senior halfback Chris Cormier (5'10, 156).

The attitude on this Wilmington team appears to be super, and is always the case, it is the seniors who lead by both their example and actions on and off the field. This year the seniors who will help lead this young team are Chuck Monteforte (RB-5'7, 135), John Hurlburt (RB-5'10, 145), Steve Bonacorsi (G-DE-5'9, 162), Sean O'Beirne (G-DE-5'11, 155), Brian Davis (G-LB-5'9, 160), Garth Halliday (T-5'8, 181), Rob Sullivan (T-5'10, 178), Roy McClanahan (T-5'6, 254), Keith Dunnnett (T-6'1, 171), Steve Raso (E-DB-5'10, 155), Roger Quandt (T-5'9, 166) Robert Donahue (E-5'9, 142) and Tom Coy (G-LB-5'8, 160).

Wilmington's junior class will be led by Don Gorski (QB-DB-5'9, 160), Billy Woods (QB-DB-5'8, 144), Joe Biondo (RB-LB-5'7,

The Wildcats' sophomore class (19) doesn't match the Tewksbury numbers, but there is some underclass talent in Wilmington. Leading the roster of WHS sophs is Chris Athanasia (QB-DB-5'10, 130), John McLaughlin (RB-DB-5'7, 148), Anthony Cutone (RB-LB-5'9, 185), Louie Moore (RB-DB-5'5, 141), John DesForge (RB-DB-5'5, 130), Trevor Deegan (G-DE-5'8, 144), Charles Rooney (G-DE-5'8, 142), Mike Fay (T-5'8, 132), Ed Shelley (C-DE-5'7, 170), Mike Burke (C-DE-5'10, 160), Eric Quellet (G-LB-5'7, 163), Russ Kashian (T-6'0, 182), Peter Campbell (G-LB-5'4, 154), Mike Maiella (T-5'9, 184), Chris Hill (T-5'7, 144), Dave MacDonald (T-5'10, 207), Fred Ryan (E-LB-6'0, 155), Kevin Collins (E-DB-5'10, 142) and Bob Steen (E-5'9, 147).

The Wildcats have a history of producing solid and sometimes spectacular skill players fronted by rugged linemen. This year despite lack of experience, this team could have a fine quarterback (Athanasia) and a back (Caizzi) of all-star potential. So to write Wilmington off so easily might be a mistake. But, being a small school in a superb conference, the Wildcats have as always, their work cut out for them.

A look at the rest of the MVC

Methuen (8-0-1) is the pick here to continue its recent string of successful seasons behind the play of running backs Barry Tardugno, Jay Tardugno and Mike Jozokos. Coach Larry Klimas lost 16 of 22 starters, but the Rangers' program has the people to keep producing. This team has good size up front, with some depth despite graduation losses.

Dracut (3-7) stumbled last season, but coach Ed Murphy should have no problem attaining the 200 victory plateau in this his 38th year at the Middle helm. Murphy will field two of the top players in the MVC with quarterback Bob Marchetta and linebacker-fullback Joe Wilkins. The Middies have good size also, but depth could be a problem.

Lowell (8-2) second behind Methuen a year ago, lost 15 players via graduation, but coach Walter Nelson's troops should challenge again thanks to a rock-ribbed defense and the running and pass catching of running back Brian Shaughnessy and tight end James Slattery. Slattery is also a fine linebacker.

Hodgson pounds Hillies

Redmen senior running back John Hodgson (25) drags a Haverhill defender while lineman Steve Catalano (58) helps clear a path in Saturday's victory. Hodgson is one of a small fleet of veteran TMHS backs.

This must be avoided

Wilmington can not afford injuries this year, and Saturday the team suffered its first casualty when Joe Biondo was carried off the field by teammate Keith Dunnnett.

followed by a Darkhorse Division of five teams that is led by a Tewksbury club that faces its' biggest rebuilding challenge since Bob Aylward took over the helm in 1974. The remainder of this darkhorse pack that won't contend for the title but will make some noise are Andover, Lawrence Central Catholic, Lawrence and a small but very quick Wilmington team.

The three squads that are surely in the Wait Until Next Year class are Haverhill, Billerica and Greater Lawrence.

the additional problem of breaking in a new quarterback after five Vecchi led (Dennis and Jeff) years.

Dennis Vecchi started at quarterback as a sophomore five years ago, and his arrival signalled the start of Tewksbury's surge to the top of Division II. The Redmen have ranked in the top five of Division II four of the last seven years, winning two conference championships and making a appearance in the Schoolboy Super Bowl.

With Aylward (5-11, 155)

Brian McGrath (5'5, 150), John Naughton (5'6, 140), John Hodgson (6'0, 195), Rich Mornewick (6'1, 170) and Shawn Monahan (5'7, 150). There is no real speed burner in this group ala Frank Fay, but they all appear to have equal ability, and any team that can interchange four to five running backs behind what appears to be a solid offensive line indeed has a shot to make things happen.

Other important returning lettermen are senior Glen Chaisson (G-5'7, 150), Bud Farley (G-DE-5'9, 165), Arthur

Tough loss for Tewksbury

The TMHS soccer squad split their first two games of the MVC season last week, outplaying an improved Lawrence team in a 2-1 victory Wednesday before shifting into high gear too late in a 2-1 loss to a physical Methuen team Saturday morning.

The Redmen will have played

Greater Lawrence Regional Vocational High School Tuesday, Sept. 20, and will travel to play top-ranked Billerica High School Thursday. Saturday, the Redmen will host the Haverhill Hillies at Tewksbury Junior High School starting at 10:30 a.m. The junior varsity will play at the same time, but at the Tewksbury High School track and field facility.

Redmen 2 Lawrence 1

The Lawrence Lancers came to Tewksbury for the season opener for both teams with a new coach and a more disciplined team. Although the Redmen would take a 2-0 lead, this year's version of the Lancers didn't collapse.

Tewksbury, known in the past for its physical brand of soccer, converted to a short and long passing game and actually controlled the first three periods of the contest. The first goal of the game came when Peter Vultaggio, a senior winger, scored the first goal of his career when he took control of a Billy Deppe corner kick and slammed it past the Lancer keeper.

Fifty-one seconds into period three Peter Kushnieruk, a junior winger, made a sharp diagonal run to beat the Lawrence goalkeeper to a Peter Vultaggio cross. The Redmen continued to apply the pressure, as they had done through the first half, but sometimes incredibly missed the open net. Mark Stemmler and Jim Field both had several golden opportunities, but failed to convert. Fullbacks Billy Deppe, Pat Sands and Kenny Krugh all were both offensive and defensive keys, while Dave Flanagan played an excellent game at midfield.

Save by Sands

Tewksbury's Pat Sands (19) came up with a fine play in the opening game victory over Lawrence when he covered for his goaltender by directing this shot away from the net.

Rough game

Tewksbury High School forward Jim Field (5) is knocked off his feet by a Lawrence player during the 2-1 TMHS victory last week.

Methuen 2 Redmen 1

It was a disappointing loss for the Redmen, as even though they didn't control play for the first three periods, Methuen's only threat came in the form of corner kicks—too many of them. The Tewksbury defense held tight as they waited for their forward counterparts to get into the game.

The fourth period started and was all Tewksbury from beginning to end, but with Methuen goalkeeper Chip Bradbury red hot and an several missed opportunities, the Redmen went down to their first defeat, 2-1.

Tewksbury came to life for a brief moment at the four minute mark of the third period when Mark Stemmler sent an excellent aerial pass across to forward Jim Field, who patiently controlled the ball and ran it into the net. Methuen then awarded two penalty shots for hand ball infractions in the penalty area, of which Glen Morissette converted both.

Co-captain Pat Sands and senior Billy Deppe were superb defense for the Redmen, while Dave Flanagan and Scott Thornton both did a fine job defensively, while trying to get an offense started from the same area. Freshman Ed Sipowicz and sophomores Nario Simao and Keith Tower also brightened the picture defensively for the young and upcoming Redmen.

Coach Bob Manzi's junior varsity team came from a 2-0 deficit to give coach Bob Manzi's team a 2-2 tie in their season opener at Methuen. Dynamic scorer Kyle Favreau cut the lead in half just 25 seconds before the halftime whistle, while David Cleland converted a Doug Noyes corner kick to tie the game. Doug Noyes and Jim Latta were both outstanding defensively for the 100 percent freshmen and sophomore junior varsity squad. Jonathan McLeod (three quarters) and Nick Grund (one quarter) played in goal for the Tewksbury JV's.

Woods Springfield College standout

Dave Woods of Wilmington is a member of the Springfield College varsity football team that opened its 1983 season at rival A.I.C. September 17.

The Chiefs, under eighth year coach Howard Vandersea, will play a competitive 10 game schedule that includes Division I opponents Maine and Northeastern and traditional rivals such as C.W. Post, Ithaca, Southern and Central Connecticut.

A junior at Springfield, Dave is a graduate of Wilmington High School and is majoring in business. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Woods of Wildwood Street, Wilmington.

A fine punter and receiver who earned the starting flanker spot late last season, Woods is expected to contribute in a number of ways. He has a great set of hands and gets good hang time on his punts. Dave tied an Springfield record last year with 68 punts.

An all-conference player at Wilmington High School under coach John Ritchie, Dave played at split end in the Shriner's All-Star Classic and defensive back in the Harry Agganis All Star Game.

Simas Bentley soccer starter

The Bentley College varsity soccer team, under first-year head coach Steve Shoff, opened the 1983 season Sept. 14 at WPI with 15 returning lettermen in uniform.

The returnees include seven players who started the in the majority of the games a year ago, including sophomore George Simas of Tewksbury.

Simas received second team All-Northeast Eight Conference honors last year after leading the Falcons in scoring. The midfielder, a product of Austin Prep, recorded five goals and three assists in his first collegiate season.

In addition to playing seven conference games this fall, Bentley will face several of the top teams in New England, including Brandeis, Babson and Providence.

Preview from page nine

Chelmsford (6-3-1) The Lions have been somewhat disappointing the past couple of seasons, but with the return of coach Tom Caito and the addition of a fine speedback in Harry Ball, this team could make a run at perhaps an 8-2 or a 9-1 season. That would be quite a campaign in this conference.

Andover (6-4-0) Again the Golden Warriors' somewhat exciting run-and-shoot attack will be hampered by a lack of quality line play. The skill people are among the best in the conference however, with All-Scholastic track star Pete Comeau at halfback to go along with kicker Charlie Ziegenbier (remember him, Tewksbury?) and punter Mark Nardone. Defense could also be a problem.

Lawrence Central Catholic (3-7-0) The Red Raiders' offense just couldn't put the ball in the endzone a year ago, scoring just 57 points. Their defense should be solid again, and coach Mike Sherr has to hope that sprint champion Ray Faunt can put some spark into the offense. There is some good size up front here.

Lawrence (1-9-0) After two banner seasons and 17 victories, the Lancers collapsed a year ago under the weight of inexperience and low numbers. Reportedly the numbers are up and the young people have improved. Halfback Bob Lefebvre could be a good one.

Haverhill (3-7-0) A mediocre team since joining the MVC a couple of seasons back, the Hillies and first year coach Paul St. Onge will be overmatched physically for much of the year. The team does have a pack of seniors on its roster, including quarterback Steve Blanchard, but adjusting to a new system could make for a long season.

Billierica (3-7-0) The Indians have been stumbling around for several seasons, and it will take more than one year for new coach Mike Esposito to turn this thing around. Cornerback-running back Walter Cataldo is one of the best players in the conference, but he is surrounded by inexperience on all sides.

Greater Lawrence (2-8-0) The Reggie's entire offensive backfield has graduated, and what Chelmsford did to them Saturday (34-0) should serve as a signal to the rest of the conference. Little defense will be played here.

Wilmington firefighters had to use the "jaws of life" Friday evening to extricate a 16-year old youth from this AMC Javelin after it was involved in an accident on Faulkner Avenue. The car, driven by Daniel W. Surrence, 17, of 9 Davis Rd., Wilmington struck the concrete front steps of a house at 120 Faulkner Ave., and also damaged shrubs at 5 Beeching Ave. at the corner of Faulkner. A passenger, Charles Stokes, 16, of 14 Jacobs St. was injured and was taken to the Regional Health Center. Officer David McCue cited Surrence for speeding and operating as to endanger.

Junior Rotarians

Susan Howard engaged to Dr. Kenneth Leavitt

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Howard of Billerica have announced the engagement of their daughter, Donna to Dr. Kenneth M. Leavitt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth R. Leavitt of Wilmington.

Donna is a graduate of Framingham State College having recently attained a B.S. degree in food and nutrition. She is employed as a Research Analyst at the U.S. Army Natick R & D Labs.

Dr. Leavitt is a graduate of Dr. William M. Scholl College of Podiatric Medicine, Chicago, Illinois, as well as Boston University. He is establishing a practice of podiatric medicine in Wilmington.

A June wedding is planned.

Officials of Dynamics Research Corporation (DRC), of Concord Street, and the commissioners of the Wilmington Water and Sewer Department have agreed in principal on sale or lease of water department property north of Route 125 in Wilmington. The proposal has been under study by DRC since early last summer.

The two groups met September 15 in the commissioners' office off Butters Row. There was a discussion that lasted over two hours.

Three reports were made on physical aspects of the tract of land which is "legally" isolated from Route 125, (no access).

Town Manager Buzz Stappczynski reported that to get access to the property from Route 125, might take several years. He has been in contact with state and federal officials, discussing the subject.

Erich Nitzsche, engineer, reported on a survey of the property. He made a contour survey and determined that there are 29,884 acres of dry land and five and one-half acres (approximately) of wetlands. He had also traced old woodland roads dating back 150 years, which could become of importance in later negotiations.

Officer Steven LaRivee was appointed to active status on the Wilmington Police Dept. earlier this month. Steve is the son of Jeanne Cariglio of Roberts Road and the late Capt. Rene LaRivee. His uncle is Robert LaRivee, an acting lieutenant in the department.

Correction

An error occurred in the police log column of last week's Town Crier. Two persons were listed as passengers in a car operated by Steven Baker, in an accident on Federal Hill in Wilmington. Peter O'Rourke and Steven Anderson were not passengers of Baker, but were in a separate car involved in the accident. Anderson was the driver. No charges were issued against Anderson, but several charges have been issued against Baker.

Wilmington senior topics

Flu and pneumonia shots

Abbie will give flu and pneumonia shots to seniors at the Drop-in Center Thursday, Sept. 22 starting at 1:30 p.m. Those who have had a pneumonia shot will not need another.

Share a Ride Inc.

A day has been purchased from Share a Ride Inc. to transport disabled Wilmington residents on the lift van every Friday from 10 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. Disabled seniors who would like to go to the beauty shop, barber shop, hot lunch site, visit a friend or shopping in Wilmington, should call Share a Ride directly at 862-8484, or call the Drop-in Center for an appointed time. By Wednesday of the week the van will be needed.

Any disabled Wilmington senior citizen can be transported to doctors of hospitals in or out of Wilmington any day through dues paid to Minuteman Homecare Corp. by the Council on Aging. To obtain this type of transportation, seniors must call as soon as possible as it takes time to schedule trips on certain days.

Fall walk program

Ed Curtis' fall walk program has resumed. Those seniors who would like to join the program which is healthy, interesting and educational, should call the Drop-in Center to register. The program is held every Monday, Wednesday and Friday morning beginning at 10.

Bart Paulding of Acton, an hydrologist who has worked for the Wilmington Commissioners reported in detail on the underground water supplies and flow. He did work like this last spring, for the entire town, working for the commissioners.

Copies of his reports have been submitted to the Mass. Department of Quality Engineering (DEQE) and North Reading's town administrator, Dick Spindler. His hydrological survey work this time, was paid for by DRC.

Paulding had sunk 17 wells on the property. Mr. Nitzsche had determined their exact location. The wells were a part of the hydrological survey made by Paulding.

There is, he reported to the commissioners, sufficient elevation above the site of DRC's proposed leaching field to more than meet the state requirements on water levels. Further, he reported, the water in the area of the proposed leaching field does not flow toward a well which the town of North Reading has nearby. Instead it flows in the direction of Martin's Pond.

His report led Commissioner Arthur Smith to remark that the town of North Reading should hire Paulding to determine water resources in that town. North Reading has a history of well failure, going back over 20 years. It recently constructed a well close to the Wilmington line which is in effect drawing water from a Wilmington well area.

Property access

Access to the town land has to be made over property facing Andover Street, because of the "no access" from Route 125. At least three parties, the town of Wilmington, the Mansco Corporation and Wilmington Fabricators will or can be affected by any proposal of this type.

Mansco is constructing a large terminal and warehouse in back of the former Daly farmhouse, now property of Maynard Eaton. There is a driveway being constructed from Andover Street.

Wilmington Fabricators has an industrial building south of that driveway, and their property extends over to Route 125.

The town of Wilmington, as a municipal entity, could exercise the powers of eminent domain. This however could cause many problems for both Mansco and Wilmington Fabricators.

There is an old woodland road going in from Andover Street, which was located and determined by Nitzsche. It goes through a corner of the building being constructed by Mansco, and to the proposed DRC site. This wood road was discussed at length by many present, and by Bruce Welty of Mansco and Commissioner Smith.

Smith at one point remarked that Mansco could put in two doors, one on each side of the corner, and give the water commissioners the key, so that trucks could go through.

Mansco seeks to preserve sufficient parking space, which would be lost if a road went through its property. The Wilmington Fabricators would probably like an access to the rear of their property, which is almost inaccessible at this time. But there are complicating problems, in wetlands and steep slopes. It is not a case of simply drawing a few lines to which everyone can agree.

Nitzsche pointed out that if the three properties were to be involved it would become a subdivision, within the meaning of that word in town planning. A subdivision, of course, would have to be approved by the planning board. Commissioner Smith pointed out that this could be a case of "give and take among the interested parties." Bruce Welty of Mansco said his firm was interested in providing access, "but we are already cramped for space."

Selectman Rocco DePasquale proposed that the three parties "cooperate." Art (Smith) has hit it on the head.

Other points

DRC can ask for rezoning as an Industrial Park, or for Industrial zoning, the officials were told. They can also decide on whether to lease or purchase the property. The water commissioners are interested because the money will provide money for a new water tower in North Wilmington, or a new water treatment plant, or both.

The officials of DRC are to make the request to purchase or lease. There will have to be a selectmen's hearing, which will be held in the library September 26.

There will be three articles on this land, for the special town meeting of October 24, according to Buzz Stappczynski. One will be for rezoning. The second will be to act on a request from DRC to purchase the land and the third will be to petition the legislature, in both houses, to allow the sale of "dedicated" town owned land.

There will also have to be a planning board hearing on the rezoning as it is being proposed. Carole Hamilton of the planning board was a spectator at the September 15 meeting, but took no part in the discussions.

Correction

The August 17 Senior Topics column included an item on Social Security cuts. The column contained a statement about Rep. Brian Donnelly (D-Mass.) that was misleading. The Congressman's letter appears on Page 4.

Chronicling 60 years together

Theirs is more than a love story

By Stevan-Adele Morley

Last Sunday afternoon an extraordinary event took place in the chapel at Bear Hill Nursing Center — located on the Wakefield-Stoneham line. Charles Victor DeGroot and Marion Rose Kanter — each over 90 years old, and residents of the nursing center — were married in a civil ceremony. Because their relationship spans beyond a half century, and is so inspiring, their wedding has been publicized on radio, in newspapers and on television from New England to California.

Theirs is more than a love story, more than another story of a 60 year love affair renewed. This is a story about friends who never failed to answer each other's needs. It's about a soul mate union, a rare kinship. To paraphrase Kahlil Gibran, Charles and Marion have shared a lifetime friendship with no purpose but the deepening of their spirits. They have always given their best to each other, and in the sweetness of their attachment they have shared laughter and found eternal pleasures.

Marion was 29 and Charles was 34 when they first met. She tells about it: "My mother died. Two of my sisters were married, leaving two other sisters and myself at home. We had empty space. So we talked about renting it out. We made a small apartment and advertised it in the Boston Globe. Charlie arrived and rented it."

They lived in Dorchester then, on Carmen Street, and Charlie was Marion's tenant for twelve years. Charles was a longshoreman. In his early days he was, among other things, the chief engineer on merchant ships that ran cargo up and down the East Coast of the U.S.

"My four sisters and I had always wanted a brother. Charlie became a brother to all of us. He and I became best friends. Real chums," Marion recalls. "He became one of the family...taught a young relative how to tie a sailor knot in his shoe laces...he was our handyman...he could make, mend and do anything!"

Charles remembers too: "I was 17 when I first went to sea. I had traveled so much and was getting tired of it. I was 34 and ready to settle down."

Marion teases, "He was such a gentleman. Very shy. And modest. Handsome! Once in a while he'd invite me out to the movies. But he was a quiet man. Serious thinker. Built radios...he was so clever with his hands."

After the first decade, Marion talked more and more about her need to live in the country. She loved birds and flowers. "My father had died...I told my sisters I wanted to live in the country. They said go ahead. So Charlie and I bought an old house — built in the late 1700s — in Norton."

They had 21 acres of land, raised gold fish, made several ponds, created authentic bird gardens...and dowsed — successfully! Charlie was happy on land, renovating. And Marion was teaching school. In bad weather she stayed in Dorchester, but otherwise she drove back and forth to Norton every day. Marion taught elementary school in Boston for 37 years. "I was principal of the Roger Wolcott Evening School for three years, and I was in charge of a 17-room school house for 23 years in Roxbury."

She is eager to explain that "I was now 41 and Charlie was 46. And never had we had more than a deep platonic relationship. We were like best friends, brother and sister. I had my quarters and he had his. We were so busy...I designed every piece of our furniture and had it made. For the first two winters we had a carpenter-in-residence."

During the 19 years they lived at Elm Haven, Charlie proposed marriage to Marion for the first time. "I told him no, I couldn't. I would have lost my teaching job. Boston teachers could not be married at that time. He felt my rejection keenly but he understood. Another thing, I was Jewish and he was not. I'd been brought up in an orthodox home. Though both my parents were dead, I knew they would be distressed if they knew," she explains.

Marion was 60 when she thought first about retiring. "I was principal of the Roger Wolcott Evening School, and principal of the Religious School of Temple, Ohabei Shalom in Brookline. And I was still studying. You see, during those years I had worked nights, on weekends and holidays, and earned two degrees — my Bachelor of Arts and my Masters. I'd had no time off and more hard work earning my 18 credits toward my Doctorate in Education..."

One day they decided they wanted more land and more water on it. So they found another old home — with a brook and several pools — in South Lyn-borough, N.H. They sold the place in Norton and began renovations. "We put so much love and devotion into our homes," she confides.

It was then, she says, "I started my 'new life.' We became avid bird watchers and conservationists. I threw myself into town affairs and environmental projects. And I began to lecture three times a month in schools."

Charlie maintains, "She joined every organization in town. I stayed out of it. I had my own interests and work to do."

She says, "Charlie was the chief cook and bottle washer too. I helped out when I could." And she explains further: "You see, I was the only Jew in town. Everyone else was Baptist. I wanted so much to belong to that community. I got involved in church improvement programs. I did social work. Coordinated fairs. Once, I recall, the church needed painting. No one in town would get involved. The church elders turned to me and we talked colors and prices. Then they left it all up to me. I got that church painted! Charlie fussed at me. Said I was doing too much — lecturing gratis, working on the Board of Directors for the Audubon Society — they gave me a Reverend bow. I spoke before every organization..."

Charlie says, "She was devoting too much of herself, of her time. But she did it all anyway. I was afraid folks wouldn't really appreciate all she did...but on Arbor Day they planted trees for her. Once someone said, 'You need something done around here, go ask the little Jew!'"

They lived at The Hollow for seventeen years. "Charlie started saying he was feeling his age. He was tired of working so hard — so we sold the place. I moved into a small apartment in Brookline and Charlie took off to live in Puerto Rico. It was our first separation in all those years. We corresponded faithfully for eight long years. In every letter he told me how lonely he was. I told him to come visit. He did. But he couldn't find a good room anywhere. He stayed here and there. One night I said, 'I have room. Why don't you stay here with me?' He's so modest, such a gentleman of the old school...but I talked him into it. He slept on a cot in the livingroom and I had my own room," she says.

That was the year 1969. They lived in Brookline until the early spring of 1982. "Charlie heard me choking around midnight that night. When he saw he couldn't help me, he ran for help and found a doctor. I was rushed to the hospital...he saved my life! From there I was sent to the Mass Rehab...never returned home again. Charlie lived on alone. He had someone to help with meals and bring him for visits."

From the rehab center Marion was sent to Bear Hill Nursing Center. She arrived on August 17 of this year. "As soon as I got here I said I wanted Charlie with me!" she laughs. "I had always looked out for him. I'd been responsible for him as he'd been for me. I was worried about him. So Charlie came here too. We saw each other every day. Every evening at bedtime he insisted on accompanying me upstairs to my room. The law says we must have someone with us in the event of an emergency. Sometimes we have to wait for someone. Charlie gets aggravated, and I get upset when he does. So I said, 'Charlie, we can use the same room upstairs. It's a big room. We can pull the curtain between the two beds and be together all the time.'"

But Charlie said no. "I won't besmear your name! It's time now for you to say yes and marry me!" he declared.

Marion explains, "I thought how wonderful he has been to me all these years. I thought it's time now for me to be good to him. So I told him, 'Yes — I'll marry you.'"

Charlie feels they should have gotten married long ago. And Marion agrees. "I know now my parents would approve of this

Kitchen - Fruitlands Museum

A unique inspiring museum

By William Pacino

Head out Route 2 as if you were driving to Concord, but keep going. Just past the Rt. 495 intersection with Route 2 is a road labeled Rts. 110-111. Take this exit into the town square of Harvard, Massachusetts. In the center of town, take a right onto Route 110 alone. Look for Prospect Hill Road on your right. A unique and inspiring museum in an absolutely beautiful setting is your destination. You have arrived at Fruitlands.

The Museums were founded in 1914 by Miss Clara Endicott Sears (1863-1960), a prominent Boston novelist and poet for publisher Houghton Mifflin's Riverside Press in the 1920's. At Fruitlands, Miss Sears wished to preserve not only objects and artifacts, but an appreciation of the diverse spiritual forces that helped shape the United States. Her four collections, housed in four distinct buildings, reflect her concern.

Fruitlands Farmhouse

In a historic, early 18th century farmhouse, Bronson Alcott established in 1843 a community under a new social and religious order known as the Con-Sociate Family. Thus, the building serves as a museum of the Transcendental movement and contains memorabilia of the leaders - Alcott, Emerson, Thoreau, Margaret Fuller, Lane and others.

The purpose of the believers in the "Newness" (Transcendentalism) was to bring about a new Eden, where a mystical and ascetic way of life was to be cultivated in a rural retreat. It was intended to pursue an intensive culture of the spiritual life, with the fullest possible development of the individual. Among other ideas, it was thought that there should be no property in land and animals should not be deprived of their freedom. Only fruit and vegetables should supply the table, and clothing was a tunic (with bloomers for the women) styled by Alcott out of linen so as not to rob the sheep of its wool or accept cotton as the product of slave labor.

FRUITLANDS MUSEUMS
14334	14334
BRONSON ALCOTT'S "FRUITLANDS" PICTURE GALLERY	SHAKER HOUSE
GENERAL ADMISSION	ADULT $2.00

The spiritual community of Fruitlands lasted less than one year. Too much philosophizing and not enough attention to the crops led to a split-up of all concerned.

The farm building itself considerably pre-dates the Fruitlands community's rather short occupation, so various aspects of life on an early farmstead are illustrated with furnishings and equipment common to the times. There is something to see on every floor, including the attic.

Shaker House

Built in the 1790's this building was originally used as an office by the members of the Harvard Shaker Society which flourished from 1791 to 1918. Moved to its present location, the Shaker House now offers a setting for a wide ranging display of Shaker handicrafts and products of community industries. Exhibits also offer an insight to Shaker beliefs and practices - among the practice of celibacy, community ownership of property, and worship expressed in dance and march.

Picture Gallery

Here the visitor will find two very different collections of Early American art. In the west galleries is displayed the portrait work of early 19th century itinerant artists, some of whom, like Chester Harding and Francis Alexander, became established portrait painters. These "primitive" portraits represent an important form of American folk art. In the east galleries, visitors will find the works of American landscape painters with the so-called Hudson River School of painting. Albert Bierstadt, Thomas Cole, Cropsey, Wyant, and others are represented. The large size and extensive detail work on these landscape paintings made this part of the Museum a particular favorite.

American Indian Museum

A selection of North American Indian relics and specimens of historic Indian arts and industries await the visitor in this large building.

Three dioramas depict: an Indian encampment in the Nashua Valley, the Sun Dance of the Plains Indians, and a scene illustrating the redemption of the celebrated Indian captive Mary Rowlandson in 1676.

Bearclaw necklaces, arrowheads and two books written by an Indian chief turned English-language author also stand out.

Outside the Museum is a full-size Indian teepee and two life-size bronze statues - Pum-unangwet ("He who shoots the stars") and Wo-Peen ("The Dreamer") by the sculptor Philip S. Sears.

The Fruitlands occupies the side of a hill overlooking the Nashua Valley. Mt. Washusett, Mt. Monadnock and Pack Monadnock are all clearly visible from the patio of the Prospect House. This view will only get better during the fall month of September.

The Museums are open to the public from May 30 to September 30. Tuesday through Sunday, from 10 to 5 PM. A small admission fee is charged. There is plenty of parking and it is a comfortable scenic ride to get to the Museum from the Middlesex-East area. Make this short trip soon and relive several aspects of America's heritage.

More than a love story

marriage, especially my mother." She smiles wistfully, "I'm the last leaf on the tree. But I have nieces and nephews. They love Charlie. Grew up with him. Everyone who knows us is delighted about this wedding." Marion feels "We are essential to each other. We're like twins. Inseparable. He's my man Friday. I can never reward him enough for all he has done for me..."

And Charlie sums up their years together this way: "We have loved each other most of our lives. There's been no great burning passion like you read about in novels - but there's the love! We have such a feeling of soulship, of kinship. Our bond is there. Never ending. We are far beyond feeling just like brother and sister now. We're more than husband and wife. It's a feeling so great - beyond us. Why, this wedding is only our placing a large period at the end of a long beautiful sentence."

Before I left them Marion told me, "We do pray that we will die together at the same time. But if we can't, I hope Charlie goes first. I know he can't make it without me. He won't be able to take it. I think I'm stronger. He'll never want for anything though, as long as he is alive, because, you see, if I do happen to die first, I've made all the necessary arrangements, coast areas, earthquakes in California, and tornadoes in the south and midwest.

The bride and groom, Charlie and Marion, meet their great grand nephew Zachary Elson after the ceremony

The possibility of disaster striking in any community is very real. In the Massachusetts Bay area, the Red Cross spent nearly $2 million helping 5,400 families recover from the Blizzard of 1978. More recently, Red Cross spent $88,000 helping the citizens of Lynn who were displaced by the Great Lynn Fire in November, 1981. In addition, each year the American Red Cross of Massachusetts Bay assists victims of small disasters such as house fires. Already this year, approximately $170,000 has been spent assisting 570 families locally in over 400 incidents.

Nationally, out of every dollar spent on Red Cross disaster aid, $.70 goes to individual assistance; $.10 to mass care; $.20 to transportation, communications support, logistics and the like.

A GRAND $1,000 OPENING!

ENTRÉ AND WIN!

Saturday, Sept. 24th marks the beginning of our grand opening celebration at Entré Computer Center of Greater Boston. We hope you'll come by and see us. As part of our celebration, we're giving a $1,000 gift certificate for anything in our store to someone who registers during our Grand Opening Week, Sept. 24 – Oct. 1.*

Everyone who visits will see that we're a different kind of computer center. Our name may have a touch of French, but here the accent is on plain-English talk about computers and what they can do for you — talk that you will understand.

IBM, Digital, Televideo...we carry all the best names in the business. But our true stock-in-trade is education — to help you choose the best system for your needs and to help you gain the knowledge and the confidence to get the most from your system today — and tomorrow. That's why we're here. And we plan to be around for a long, long time.

In Stoneham

New type Computer store

A whole new approach in selling personal computers to small businesses, corporations and individuals is coming to Stoneham, with the Grand Opening of Entree' Computer Center, 125 Main Street, Stoneham on Saturday, September 24.

The Entree' Computer Center is one of a select group of retailers chosen by IBM to carry their personal computers. Adding the IBM Personal Computer and Personal Computer XT to a wide line of extensively-evaluated hardware and software, including Osborne, DEC and Televideo, means anyone from the first-time user to the experienced professional can find the right system at Entree'.

"Finding that perfect system for different business needs is what the Entree' concept is all about," says Center manager, Martin M. Falaro. "We stress service and a long-term relationship with our customers. And our first priority is matching the customer's needs with the right equipment that will fill those needs, no more and no less."

increase profitability. We don't try to make them computer experts. We use our expertise to put computers to work for them."

Entree' will train the customer and his or her staff. And once the initial training is complete, ongoing educational seminars are available to Entree' customers, to keep them updated and using the equipment as efficiently as possible. Another part of fostering a long-term relationship is Entree's guarantee to service all equipment sold.

"We believe our straightforward, plain language approach to the personal computer is perfect for beginners," says Falaro, "but we also feel our service and expertise will make us the store people will come back to when they need to grow."

To meet the goal, the Entree' Computer Center is designed to be more than just a store. Conference rooms are available for customers to first meet with a Systems Consultant and determine just what their computer needs are. With the needs well-established, the customer, again aided by a Systems Consultant, can more comfortably approach the otherwise confusing task of choosing the proper mix of hardware and software for word processing, accounting, financial modeling or any number of other uses.

"You'd be surprised at how many intelligent, successful people are scared to death at the thought of choosing a personal computer, only because it's a new field for them. Education and training are important," continued Falaro, "and we offer that." But we understand that our customers are professionals in their own fields who need a tool to

September 27th

Inter-Community Bloodmobile

Give your blood! An Inter-Community Blood Donor Day is scheduled for Tuesday, September 27th from 1:00 to 7:00 p.m. at the Lutheran Church of the Redeemer, Forest Park Road, Woburn. This will be the fourteenth year that the church has hosted this annual blood drive.

The church is located just off Route 128. It is easily reached. Take Exit 39 North (Route 38) turn right at first traffic light (Alfred Street) and follow the Bloodmobile arrows.

Volunteer telephone recruiters are now contacting donors, from more than 20 communities, who have registered during the past four years, in order to schedule appointments. You can make an appointment by calling the Church Office, 933-4600, from 9:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m., Mr. K.B.

Woodworth, 245-5388, may be called at any other time. If you are unable to make an appointment, come and give blood anyway (the earlier the better) — the life you save could be your own!

With blood supplies particularly low after the vacation months, and with the increases in accidents, injuries and illnesses, the need for donors is urgent.

A spokesman for the Woburn Red Cross Chapter emphasizes, "Blood is one of the doctor's most valuable aides." Many people are alive today because blood was available when they needed it. "The Red Cross does not need blood — people do."

The Red Cross relies completely on volunteer donors to keep a constantly sufficient supply of blood on hand — blood comes from only one source, healthy people who are willing to give of themselves.

All healthy persons from 17 years old (with parental consent) to 65, are asked to participate in Tuesday's Blood Donor Day.

A human body contains from 10 to 12 pints of blood and the donated pint is quickly replaced. A donor may safely give a pint of blood every 56 days.

The actual donation itself usually takes less than 10 minutes hemoglobin level. A drop of his blood is typed and tested for disease which might be transmitted to the receiving patient or patients. This mini-physical can be of benefit to the prospective donor for, if any of the tests indicate a need for medical attention, it is an "alert" to consult a physician.

Some units of blood are broken down into components to assure maximum utilization. In this way as many as four patients may be helped.

Because whole blood must be used within 21 days of donation and some of the components within hours, there is a continuing need for fresh supplies of blood to be donated.

Join the Bloodline at the Lutheran Church of the Redeemer, Woburn, on September 27th, and save a life! Give your blood!

Fabritown presents seminar

Fabritown will feature a collection of classic hand-sewing techniques designed for the sewing machine, and applied to modern home-decorating and craft projects, on Sept. 28 from 2 to 4 and 6 to 8 p.m. Call 944-6996 for reservations.

You'll love it or hate it

By RICK PEARL

GLOUCESTER — There is at least one thing upon which everyone can agree about Israel Horovitz's newest play, "The Widow's Blind Date" (final performances of which are this Friday and Saturday at the Blackburn Tavern — call 1-283-9108 for ticket information): it won't leave you indifferent.

You'll either love it, hate it, be upset about it, or have any other number of varying and diverse emotional reactions; Horovitz's fast-moving and tightly written script will see to that.

The final production of the Gloucester Stage Company, "The Widow's Blind Date" is a three-person, two act play set in the baling-press room of a wastepaper company in Wakefield, Massachusetts. Horovitz, a native of Wakefield who currently resides in Gloucester and New York (see Jacki Leonard's profile elsewhere in this newspaper), has made a habit of including his hometown and the surrounding area in his works, making them doubly enjoyable for local audiences.

Not that "The Widow's Blind Date" is all laughs. Granted there are some jokes in there (and references to local eating establishments and women that are sure to amuse), but the theme of the show is quite serious, indeed. It involves one woman's search for justice in a town that has scarred her for life. The town is Wakefield. The woman is Margie Burke (played by Dossy Peabody). Her search begins at the wastepaper company, with Arnold "Archie" Crisp (Al Mohrmann) and Georgie Ferguson (Tom Bloom).

Even through a first act which is generally amusing one senses a foreboding aura in Horovitz's work. Such is his skill as a playwright, here, that it is finely woven into the script — beneath the surface, so to speak. It is nothing we can lay our hands on, no one line or action anyone says or does, just a feeling.

There is great dramatic and physical violence in "The Widow's Blind Date." The down-on-their-luck boys at the wastepaper company are crude and vulgar. They are more comfortable settling their debates with brawls rather than words. Their lives are mirrors of their personal nature. It is exactly this which Margie is out to change.

She is a recently widowed woman returned to town. She has called Archie up for a date, completely out of the blue. As the men wait for her appearance at the paper plant, old memories, complete with old jealousies and mistrusts, crop up. When she does arrive, the tension doesn't abate, but, rather, increases.

"The Widow's Blind Date" is one of those hidden gems tucked away in the far reaches of suburban theatre. Since the Gloucester Stage Company is a small, privately-run organization, it is sometimes overlooked. But the theatre is small, intimate, and audience-friendly, and the play itself is wonderful.

If you miss out on the GSC and "The Widow's Blind Date" this summer, do make it a point to go to Gloucester next summer. With Horovitz as the artistic director, one is guaranteed an enjoyable and, in the case of "The Widow's Blind Date," stirring bit of theatre.

Microwave cooking tips

If you're among the millions of people who own a microwave oven, these hints from Janet Felmeth, director of the White-Westinghouse-Kelvinator Home Economics Institute, will add a new dimension to your culinary delights.

Frozen pies should be transferred to a glass pie dish, then microwaved for 12 to 16 minutes. Bake in a conventional oven for 10 to 15 minutes, depending on the size of the pie.

FRESH VEGETABLES — Fresh vegetables are tender and tasty when they're prepared in a microwave oven. Usually, the cooking time at the "High" setting is only 6 to 10 minutes per pound. Some vegetables, such as potatoes, acorn squash, and corn on the cob, are cooked in their own "containers" which gives the added advantage of no dish-washing.

RAPHAEL AND AMERICA
To commemorate the 500th anniversary of the year of Raphael's birth, the Isabella Stewart Gardner Museum will recreate part of the exhibition recently organized by the National Gallery, Raphael in America. The first American collectors of Raphael's work are the subject of the exhibition; it will include letters, books and photographs. Isabella Stewart Gardner was the first

American to succeed in acquiring paintings by Raphael: a Portrait of Tommaso Inghirami and The Lamentation. She was soon followed by collectors such as J. Pierpont Morgan, Henry Walters, Joseph Widener, Andrew

Mellon, and Samuel H. Kress - all eager for a painting by the "divine Raphael."
Mrs. Gardner valued her acquisitions so highly that she named one of the galleries at Fenway Court "The Raphael Room". The Portrait of Tommaso

Inghirami and The Lamentation are both on permanent exhibition in this room. The Gardner collection also includes a chalk drawing attributed to Raphael.

The week of September 25th has been declared National Adult Day Health Week and Adult Day Health Week in Massachusetts. Since 1975-1976, when the Medicaid program funded six pilot Adult Day Health projects, the number of certified ADH Programs in Massachusetts has grown to 61.

Adult Day Health Programs provide a high quality alternative to institutional care for the frail elderly and handicapped who require medical, social and/or psychological support in order to realize their optimal level of functioning. Because institutional care is prevented or delayed through health maintenance, promotion of wellness and coordination of support services, ADH is an essential and cost efficient program.

Adult Day Health's greatest asset, however, is the ability to enhance the quality of life for its participants. The safe, affirming, structured environment provides the health care, nutrition, social services, educational opportunities, transportation, socialization and therapeutic recreation necessary to promote each participant's potential for growth, rehabilitation and sense of well-being. Individual plans of care are developed by program staff based on assessments involving participants, their families and/or community service providers. There is a high degree of client, family and provider satisfaction with Adult Day Health programs.

GOVERNOR DUKAKIS signing the proclamation declaring Sept. 19-25 as "National Square Dance Week" in Massachusetts. Present are, from left, Carole and Ray Aubut, editors of "New England Square Dance Caller" magazine and Joe and Jean Hartka, past presidents of the North Shore Square and Round Dance Association (NSSARDA).

Sept. 19-25 Square Dance Week

An official proclamation has been issued by Governor Michael Dukakis declaring the week of September 19th through the 25th as "National Square Dance Week" in the state of Massachusetts. This week is being recognized nationally and has special significance as the square dance has been officially adopted as the United States "National Folk Dance." At the signing, the North Shore Square and Round Dance Association, with 48 member Clubs, was represented by Past President Joe and Jean Hartka. Also present were Ray Aubut, well-known New England Square Dance Caller, and his wife, Carole, who serve as Editors of the New England Square Dance Caller magazine. On presentation of the proclamation, the Governor wished all square dancers in Massachusetts and their respective organizations continued success in their varied activities within the square dance movement.

If you or any of your friends have an interest in participating in the square dance activity, send your name, address, phone number and type of club that you are interested in to: Square Dancing, P.O. Box 1517, Wakefield, Ma. 01880 as soon as possible.

Basic Real Estate course

Classes for the thirty-hour course will be held at MAR's Headquarters, 400 No. 2 Totten Pond Road, Waltham. According to Dean John R. McGrath, Esq., of Boston, the course covers the twenty-four hour requirement set by the State and covers materials including an extensive review of laws, rules and regulations on real estate in Massachusetts, as well as mathematics, terminology, transaction and instrument preparation.

Students will use the "Handbook for Real Estate Examination and Practice" written by Association Executive Vice President, Milton H. Shaw of Boston. There is a fee for the course.

Class is limited. For advance registration or further information, contact the Association office in Waltham at (617) 890-3700.

Is your lawn in poor shape?

If your lawn is in poor shape, overrun with weeds, eaten by insects or just not up to par, construct a new one this fall. Our cool Massachusetts climate from mid-August to mid-September is ideal for starting lawns, but before construction, the basics such as soil, organic matter, lime, fertilizer and grass mixture should be considered to assure success.

Subsoil is the basis for lawns. This is the layer of soil which is directly underneath the topsoil or loam. This should be rototilled well or otherwise broken up, six inches deep. Grass roots need to penetrate deeply, and a compacted subsoil layer is undesirable. Subsoil must also provide good drainage.

Good quality topsoil in sufficient amounts will assure rapid lawn establishment. A fine sandy loam soil, 4 to 6 inches deep is ideal. It should have a good capacity to hold plant nutrients and water and permit movement of air to grass roots. Organic matter should be added during the construction process. Peat moss or compost are good sources and should be spread 1 to 2 inches deep and mixed well with the topsoil. Limestone is necessary on most soils for best lawn growth. The quantity of lime depends on the soil acidity. However, one hundred pounds of ground limestone per 1000 square feet is usually adequate for lawn construction. If a soil test is made, follow recommended lime requirements.

Fertilized is the source of nutrients for your grass. There are many types of lawn fertilizers: some organic such as sewage and some chemical such as 5-10-5 or 10-10-10. Either may be used satisfactorily according to directions.

Grasses for use in Massachusetts must be adapted for this area. Permanent grasses which are recommended include Kentucky Bluegrasses, Creeping Fescues and firm-leaved ryegrasses. These three should be used in mixtures rather than singly for best results.

Combining these basic considerations with adequate water and care, lawn construction can be rewarding. For those constructing a lawn this fall, write to the Middlesex County Extension Service, Agriculture Dept., 105 Everett St., Concord, Ma. 01742 for a free "Lawn Construction" booklet.

Asthma course

Captain Wondertung, an educational program for asthmatic five and six-year-old children and their parents will be held at Lawrence Memorial Hospital of Medford, beginning on October 6, 1983.

therapist. The program is designed to teach the children some basic breathing exercises, correct posture, relaxation techniques and positions, and will include discussions on what may trigger an asthmatic episode, and feelings associated with the illness. Educational sessions will also be conducted Class size is limited, and registration is required for this program. The fee is $10. For more information, call the LMH Rehabilitation Services Department at 396-9250, ext. 1221.

Council for Children forms adolescent committee

The Eastern Middlesex Council for Children is a volunteer, child advocacy organization supported by the Office for Children of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts. Like the other forty-one Councils across the state, the Eastern Middlesex Council for Children utilizes a variety of means to improve the quality of children's lives in Stoneham, Melrose, Wakefield, North Reading and Reading.

Working together toward this end are many Council committees: Legislative, Child Abuse-Neglect Prevention, Chapter 766, Proposal Review, Community Review, Needs Assessment, Help for Children, Publicity and Steering. New committees being created this fall are Day Care, Education and Adolescents.

The Committee on Adolescents will be chaired by Maggie Downes, Director of the Drug and Alcohol Services Program, Youth and Family Resources, Inc. Community residents and professionals from the schools, police departments, courts and human service agencies are asked to volunteer. The commitment is only 3-5 hours a month.

The Committee will focus on some critical issues facing adolescents, such as drugs and alcohol, employment, delinquency, emergency care and sex education. For further information on the Adolescent Committee and the Council, please contact John Beagan, Community Representative, Eastern Middlesex Council for Children, 7 Lincoln Street, Wakefield, Ma. 01880. Telephone 245-5267.

Parent Aide Program seeks supervisors

The Parent Aide Program gives parents who need help coping with parental stress the opportunity to experience a caring, trusting, and worthwhile relationship. A trained volunteer aide agrees to befriend an overwhelmed parent for a year. The current situation rarely involves physical abuse, however, emotional abuse or other parenting problems might exist.

Parent aides must attend group supervision meetings. Supervision allows the aides to discuss the relationships with their clients and to lend support to one another.

Volunteer supervisors are needed to assist parent aides with their demanding and sensitive responsibility. The time commitment is 5-10 hours a month.

If you are interested and would like to learn more, please contact John Beagan, Community Representative, Eastern Middlesex Council for Children, 7 Lincoln Street, Wakefield, Ma. 01880. Telephone 245-5267.

Share your family!

Ready for an enriching experience? Share your family and your community with an international high school student from Europe, the Orient, Central and South America, or Mexico. Youth Exchange Service (YES) is in constant need of American host families all over the United States for these students coming for 9 months (one school year), or for shorter periods of 6 and 3 months. Students are well screened, have excellent medical insurance, and bring their own spending money. Host family basic responsibilities are to receive the student as a member of the family and to provide a bed and meals. For more details on opportunities for hosting an international teenage student, please contact: Youth Exchange Service (YES), World Trade Center Building, 350 South Figueroa, Los Angeles, Calif. 90071, or phone (213) 617-0800.

A guide for choosing the right fence for your home

"There is more to choosing a fence than meets the eye," said Parker Godfrey, branch manager of Walpole Woodworkers, in Wilmington, Ma. There are several points to consider.

According to Godfrey, fencing serves a variety of purposes. The most common use is to keep children and dogs safe. A picket or screen fence is ideal for this. Another need is to enclose pools to ensure privacy and safety. Shadowbox style board fences are frequently chosen for this. Fences also mark boundaries, decorate property and accent landscaping, while increasing the value of the home.

"Think about what you want your fence to look like. You may want a contemporary look, or one more rustic. Some people prefer an informal appearance; others choose classic," Godfrey added.

Quality is always important. The best guarantee of a good fence is the reputation of the fence company. Choose one that's been in the business many years with satisfied customers. They can help you pick the best fence according to your specific needs.

Among the points to consider is the height of the fence. It should maintain a proper perspective with its surroundings — not too high or low. The various parts should be designed properly, in the right proportions for appearance and endurance.

The fence should be aligned correctly to please the eye and present an effect of symmetry. The component parts must blend with each other, so the fence doesn't appear overbuilt or underbuilt. Posts should not be too overbearing for the rails they support. The rails should be spaced appropriately — not too far apart.

According to Godfrey, the materials of the fence are crucial to its longevity. "Cedar is the best wood available for fencing. It is a stable softwood that lasts well, standing up to the most severe weather and suffering the least warping and twisting of any wood. It is also a beautiful wood that ages well, turning silvery gray," Godfrey said. For added styling, the fences can be stained in a variety of wood tones to harmonize with their surroundings.

The fasteners that join the parts of the fence together must be of the proper materials to avoid rust. Hot dipped galvanized nails and aluminum screw-type nails are best. Dipping the below-ground butts of fence posts in creosote adds length to the life of the fence. The wood in fences should be milled uniformly for an attractive appearance, not rough and serrated. If dowels are used in fence construction, they should be at least 2 1/8" in diameter.

Choose your fence company carefully. The least expensive may not be a money-saver. For example, fences made of spruce may sell for $1,000, and last approximately seven years, costing approximately $140 per year. The same fence in cedar may cost $1,500, but will last 19-25 years, at about $78 per year.

The Playhouse lights are on again after a long, hot summer. The atmosphere sizzles with creative energy as characters are being molded from the printed page into distinct, feeling human beings. Combined with the proper mood through lighting, setting and costumes, the unassuming former two-room schoolhouse will once again be magically transformed into another place and time.

Rehearsals are well underway for the Quannapowitt Players' first offering of the season, "Present Laughter," a delightful comedy by Noel Coward.

The playwright, Mr. Coward (1899-1973), was a writer, actor and director however, he is best known for his comedies which will always crackle with contemporary wit. Unlike his colleagues whose work projected the volatile political and social changes of the day, Noel Coward keyed his writings to the passing moment with all time frames suspended. Milton Levin states in his book, "Noel Coward," a comprehensive overview of the latter's works, that Coward's appeal is due, in part, to the fantasy factor. "In his world elegance, ease and irresponsibility are the very birthright of the splendid people who live there," Levin regards Coward as "the supreme entertainer" for stimulating this pure escapism.

A latecomer to the "Present Laughter" cast is Hugh Metzler of Wakefield who will play Morris, Garry's other friend and partner. Hugh is an actor of many facets and has extensive acting credits. Most recently, he portrayed Judge Turpin in the Reading Summer Theatre

Company's production of "Sweeney Todd." Quannapowitt audiences will remember him as Monsieur Martin, the bumbling, umbrella-toting father to the four "little girls" with the curiously timed speech imp-imp-impediment! from last seasons hit, "Hotel Paradiso."

"Present Laughter" is being directed by Dean Peterson of Hempstead, N.H. Dean is also a proficient actor with many Quannapowitt credits including Bill the dentist in "On Golden Pond" and Toby Felker, Father Rivard's lawyer in "The Runner Stumbles." He also directed "Angel Street" a few seasons back and "The Great American Backstage Musical" last year.

Principals in the "Present Laughter" crew are Nancy E. Curran of Wakefield as Producer and Jeanne Gorfine of Malden as Stage Manager. Nancy, former Publicity Director of Quannapowitt has worn many hats down at the Playhouse very comfortably. Her talents include portraying Chelsea in "On Golden Pond," stage-managing "The Glass Menagerie" and producing "Hotel Paradiso." Jeanne much prefers to be behind the lights, either operating them as she did in "The Soapy Murder Case" or stage-managing "The Lost Boy" and "The GABN" among others.

Production dates for "Present Laughter" are September 23, 24, 30 and October 1, 2, 6, 7 and 8. The Saturday performance on October 1st is almost sold out and tickets are sure to go quickly. A free performance for senior citizens is scheduled for Thursday, September 22 at 8:15 p.m. For ticket information and reservations for regular productions, call the Quannapowitt Playhouse at 55 Hopkins Street, Reading 944-4949.

Meat Cut Quiz

Q: Veal Leg Round Steak. Where does it come from? How is it identified?

A: This steak is cut from the center of the round (leg) section of the veal. It contains the top, bottom and eye muscles and a cross-section of the leg bone. It has a thin outer covering of fat and skin.

Q: How is it prepared?

A: Since veal, although tender, is very lean, it is recommended that it be braised or pan-fried. Slow cooking in moist heat assures tenderness and juiciness and develops veal's milk flavor. To braise, brown steak on both sides in fat in frying pan. Pour off drippings. Add a small amount of liquid and seasonings as desired. Cover tightly and cook slowly 45 to 60 minutes or until tender. Pan-frying provides the fat that veal lacks. To pan-fry, brown on both sides in small amount of fat in frying pan, season as desired. Continue cooking, uncovered, at moderate temperature until done, turning occasionally.

Circus comes to town

The sensational new 112th edition of the Greatest Show on Earth is coming to town — and don't you miss it!

This unforgettable family entertainment features fabulous feats never before witnessed, along with amazing animal acts, comical clowns, and dazzlingly costumed production numbers that include the entire cast of performers and animals. The Greatest Show will play at the Boston Garden for 24 performances, October 19 to October 30. Tickets for Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Circus are on sale now at the Boston Garden and at all Ticketron outlets.

Featured acts this year will be famed wild animal trainer Charlie Bauman and his fifteen fearsome felines; the smallest man in the world, Michu and his fellow "Lilliputians"; as well as the aerial artistry of The Flying Vasquez. For general ticket information, call 227-3200.

Thompson Island excursion

"Illuminations" will feature Thompson Island's offerings to the general public this Fall, when a new lecture-luncheon series begins Sunday, October 16th. Each Illumination will include a round trip boat ride to Thompson Island, in Boston Harbor, a lecture-field trip by William Perkins, and a gourmet-adventure luncheon.

The first Illumination series examines the uses of the different human senses in the study of nature. "A Sight Safari", concentrates on the use of the sight, both normal and enhanced, in the exploration of the 157-acre Island nature preserve. Participants are urged to bring field glasses, magnifying glasses, and cameras for the field trip. Microscopes, photo enlargements, and slides will form a part of the indoor presentation.

The agenda for each of the Illuminations calls for departure on board the Pilgrim IV from The Landing, South Boston, at mid-morning, a 1½ hour lecture-field trip, a leisurely, discussion-filled luncheon, and an opportunity for a informal personal exploration of the Island until the boat leaves for the mainland at 3 PM.

Reservations may be made by calling 328-3900. This excursion is made under the auspices of the Thompson Island Education Center.

Foliage advice

AAA Massachusetts urges motorists to be certain they have a place to stay before leaving on a weekend fall foliage trip through New England. If you plan to stay overnight, make your reservations now. Rooms will be scarce at hotels, motels and inn throughout the mountain and lake regions of New Hampshire and Vermont, and in western Massachusetts.

The most popular times are the weekends of October 1 and 2; October 8-10 (the long Columbus Day weekend) and October 15 and 16.

The AAA has predicted heavy traffic on the major routes to New Hampshire, Vermont and Maine, and to western Massachusetts.

Mini-course offered

Three Tufts faculty members, including former Mass. secretary of environmental affairs John Bewick, will discuss hazardous waste issues in a two-session "mini course," titled "The A to Z of Hazardous Wastes," to be offered by Tufts University Alumni Council's continuing education program.

Coming Attractions

By William Pacino

In the first session, on Tuesday, Oct. 4, from 7:30 to 9:30 PM, Bewick will discuss the Environmental Protection Agency's Superfund program, the Massachusetts hazardous waste siting law, and state efforts to clean up existing hazardous waste dumps.

In the second session, on Tuesday, Oct. 11, from 7:30 to 9:30 PM, Tufts faculty members Norton Nickerson and Kenneth Geiser will consider the need for treatment facilities in Massachusetts and siting issues involved.

Both sessions will be held at Tufts' Anderson Hall on the Medford campus. The cost is $8 per person per session.

For more information and to make reservations, call the Tufts Alumni Council at 381-3526.

From the big top in Boston to the changing colors along Route 2, COMING ATTRACTIONS has something for everyone. But if you know of an event of interest to all, write, care of this local newspaper, and tell us all about it. We think we know of a lot, but we find out every day there is so much more to learn of.
